

P133. CARMANIA (II). Built in 1954 for Cunard by John Brown at Glasgow as the Saxonia and re-named in 1963. 21,637 gross tonnage. 608ft overall. Geared turbines, twin screw. 21 knots. Passengers: 110 1st class, 833 tourist. She sailed between the UK and Canada and from 1969 was used for cruising. Laid up in 1971. Became the Russian Leonid Sobinov in 1973. © Beken of Cowes.

AFTER THE BATTLE

AFTER THE BATTLE 3 NEW PLAISTOW ROAD LONDON E15 3JA

After the Battle is a quarterly publication which presents WWII through comparison 'then and now' photographs.